SOL RACE RECORD

SOL's Class 40 saw its first outings in 2010.

In real life, the class came to being in 2004, as a level-rating, box-rule (12.19 x 4.5 x 3 m), single- or short-handed ocean racing solution positioned in between the Mini's and the IMOCA's.

Since those early days, the 40 has grown and grown in popularity with competitors, designers and builders worldwide, and has been a regular racer on SOL's virtual seas and oceans (which you can see via the link below).

Designed by Jason of the same name and built by McConaghy Boats, the Ker 40 is a high performance handicap racer and first hit the water in 2012. Very successful from the get-go, she was awarded Boat of the Year by America's Sailing World magazine the next year.

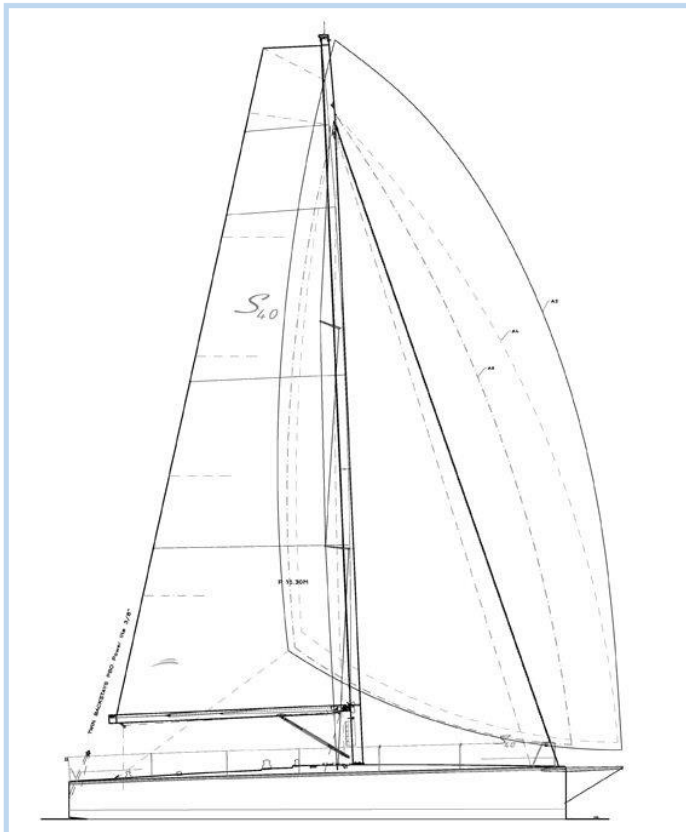

Introduced to SOL in 2016 by SOLer psail, the Sol-KER is a welcome addition to SOL's fleet of 40-footers, and to the IRL Ker fleet of eponymous - like KERonimo, KukuKERchu and Ice BreakER - and other racy-named machines around the Globe.

Before the Soto 30, there was the Soto 40, an even more muscular open cockpit over-canvassed dayracer of 40 incredible feet in length. A bit of a beast really.

But on SOL that bothers us not, and we regularly take Javier Acabel Soto's animal out for a 'burn', as can be seen in the link below.
